Appointment of Chief Operating Officer

WPG Resources Ltd (ASX:WPG, WPGO) is pleased to advise that Mr Cornel Parshotam has been appointed Chief Operating Officer effective 1 July 2016.

Cornel is a mining professional with over 36 years of leadership and operational experience in the minerals industry. He joins WPG from his most recent position as Head of Operations at BHP Billiton's Olympic Dam mine in South Australia. Prior to that, he was the General Manager Mine at Olympic Dam. Before joining BHP he was Acting Operations Manager at Emperor Gold Mines in Fiji and before that General Manager Operations at Metallon Gold in Zimbabwe, which at the time was the largest gold producer in Zimbabwe. He has held other senior management positions in underground and open pit gold and base metal mining operations and processing in Africa and Australasia, at scales varying from small to large.

WPG's Executive Chairman Bob Duffin said "Cornel brings a wealth of technical, operational and business knowledge to WPG's management team. We are fortunate to have been able to recruit such a high calibre person to our group."

His appointment rounds off the Company's key executive team of CEO (Martin Jacobsen), CFO (Wayne Rossiter), Chief Geologist (Gary Jones) and Company Secretary (Larissa Brown).
