Corporate Governance guidelines and standards that are influential in the Australian market recommend that in the absence of an Independent Chairman, a Lead Independent Director be appointed. Mr Bob Duffin (Executive Chairman) is an executive Director and substantial shareholder and therefore is not independent. While the Board is of the view that Mr Duffin's director experience enables him to be aware of and act in an independent manner and in the best interests of all shareholders, the Directors have agreed to appoint one of its independent Non-executive Directors as Lead Independent Director who can oversee the executives of the Company and set a pro-shareholder agenda without the management conflicts that an executive insider sometimes faces. A Charter for this new position is being developed and once it is adopted, a Lead Independent Director will be nominated by the independent Non-executive Directors. This process will be completed in the coming months.

The creation of a Lead Independent Director role should not be interpreted to suggest that WPG is contemplating a transaction that could create a conflict of interest.
